Fall 2013

Library News & Information

Summer reading has come to an end and intriguing fall programming is in full swing at our libraries.

Spokane Is Reading 2013

Spokane Is Reading welcomes author Maria Semple and her book, Where'd you go, Bernadette for the 12th Annual Spokane Is Reading event.

Spokane Is Reading, sponsored and organized by Spokane County Library District, Spokane Public Library, and Auntie's Bookstore, hosts two appearances with Ms. Semple on Thursday, October 10, 2013. The first appearance is at the Convention Center Conference Theater in downtown Spokane at 1pm, and the second at CenterPlace in the Spokane Valley at 7pm. Both events are free admission.

Spokane Is Reading is a community read designed to encourage reading throughout the region and is one of the longest-running community reads in the State of Washington. Generous support for Spokane is Reading comes from the various Friends of the Library groups in Spokane County and the City of Spokane.

This fall also brings musical performances from the Spokane Symphony Ensembles and Gonzaga's Big Bing Theory.

Spokane Symphony Ensembles:

Hear and learn about the music and instruments played by the Spokane Symphony ensembles, as they bring a special performance to select

Spokane County Libraries. Each inspiring program offers information on the instruments played, along with an opportunity for audience questions.

Big Bing Theory:

The Big Bing Theory, or "BBT", is Gonzaga University's student run, co-ed a cappella group. Check out BBT and experience the sounds of its members, ranging from soprano to bass, as they harmonize with sweet sounds. You will be impressed by the talent of these normal college, and non-music major, students as they perform songs entertaining for all ages.

Check out www.sclld.org for performance dates and times.
