Library News & Information

Big Read: The Call of the Wild

Once again, the Spokane County Library District has received a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts to do a Big Read. We will be reading Call of the Wild as a community in February. There will be activities and programs for children and adults related to the wide variety of topics suggested by the book. We're sure to have something for everyone. Stay tuned for more information soon!

A Foundation of Friendship

We're thrilled to announce the launch of a brand new foundation, The Friends of the Spokane County Library District, which unites, supports, and works in concert with the existing Friends, who have been doing great work on an individual library basis for many years. Together, we hope to find new and exciting ways to bring resources, events and support to our community. Please visit scldfriends.org to find out more and join us.

Follow Your Fancy

The library has blogs, written by staff and guest writers, sure to tickle your fancy. We write about food, kids, writing and creativity, business, geekery, local activities, library resources, and, of course: books.

Did You Know?

Libraries are busy places. Just last year, 1,387,652 people came through the doors of Spokane County Libraries. That's 137,240 more than attended events at the Spokane Arena, INB, Fairgrounds, and Convention Center combined. In September, our mailing of fall programs under the theme, Create, filled the classes so quickly that additional classes were added to the schedule (if you missed getting in on any of our Create series, wait until you see what we have planned for spring!).

Outreach Services are designed for those in the community who are unable to visit any of the District's 10 libraries. Outreach also acts as the local liaison for Washington Talking Book & Braille Library.
