

Counting Feet

How many boots should a duckling buy
To keep his feet nice and dry?
Let's count his feet and then we'll know –
We can count. Let's go!
One, Two!
Two new boots is what he should buy.
That will keep the duckling dry.

Place boots on duckling and count again as you put them on.

How many boots should a puppy buy
To keep her feet nice and dry?
Let's count her feet and then we'll know –
We can count. Let's go!
One, two, three, four!
Four new boots is what she should buy.
That will keep the puppy dry.

Place boots on puppy and count again as you put them on.

How many boots should a spider buy
To keep her feet nice and dry?
Let's count her feet and then we'll know –
We can count. Let's go!
One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight!
Eight new boots is what she should buy.
That will keep the spider dry.

Place boots on spider and count again as you put them on.

You can end by counting all the feet on the board, then having the kids say goodbye to each animal as you take them off the flannel board.