Over 45 library programs in October for many interests, every age

Spokane, WA | September 18, 2025 – Spokane County Library District (SCLD) announces over 45 library programs in October on a variety of topics with something for every age.

FOR ADULTS

SCLD has over 30 library programs and events for adults in October, covering a variety of interests.

Online author talks include Leigh Bardugo, Malala Yousafzai, Philippa Gregory, and Michael Bungay Stanier. Classes for various crafts and hobbies dive into cooking, genealogy, preserving memories, quilting, gardening, and more.

Options for fascinating, informative, and useful presentations and workshops cover topics such as fire safety (all ages), making your vote count locally, restrictive property covenants, the Veterans History Project, wonderful and weird objects in museums, and the criminalization of rural disadvantage.

Two financial workshops led by BECU educators help people manage their money and prevent fraud. SNAP Spokane instructors offer unbiased information about the major aspects of the home-buying process. For anyone searching for a job or changing career, WorkSource coaches share their expertise during drop-in hours. Find out how ChatGPT for Your Small Business can revolutionize social media and marketing efforts.

When clothes and other textiles need repairs—torn jeans, fallen hems, ripped seams, small tears—they can be fixed during Mend-It Café. Get information about physical and mental health services and pick up some free swag at the WSU Health Education Fair at Cheney Library. Sessions for preventing falls for older adults and Medicare open enrollment are taking pace in October. Find a supportive atmosphere with activities for those experiencing memory loss and their caregivers during Memory Café. Check out several informative dementia sessions for caregivers and community members.

FOR KIDS, TEENS & FAMILIES

Kids of all ages can find engaging programs at our libraries this fall. Along with weekly Play & Learn Storytimes, early learners and families can attend the STA Touch-a-Bus Storytime. Also, non-scary costumes are welcome at Spooktacular Storytime.

Families and people of all ages are invited to touch a fire truck and walk through a fire safety house during the Fire Prevention Week event. Ciencia en español: programación / Science in Spanish: Coding is for kids ages 6–10 who speak Spanish and their families. Kids can help crack The Case of the Missing Book and explore Games & Crafts from Around the World, as well as treats.
